

Reflection on how I came up with this question and commitment

At the start, I had no idea what I was gonna do with this assignment. With the help of Karolyn it all made sense. I wanted to explore or document further on some of the things that I have been seeing. Some children in my center love to lead other kids, some love to draw, some are good for comfort, and some are just snugglers. I'm sure there are more that I haven't discovered yet as for some of the kids there, I haven't really bonded with yet. Sage is a very nice room for me, and I would love to just observe and look deeper to see what the kids are bringing into that community. Of course with the help of me trying to build stronger relationships with everyone. As I know that that's the sweet start of getting them to know more and them being comfortable with you to share who they are. They all have their own uniqueness and I would love to explore more on that.
